

Posturite in numbers: Homeworkers we've helped since lockdown

Between the announcement of the COVID-19 pandemic in March 2020 and the beginning of autumn, we've helped thousands of office workers get safely and comfortably set up in their new homeworking environments.

Throughout the pandemic, we've sent 62,000

homeworking equipment orders to people's homes, including:

25,300
Ergonomic chairs

1,200
Sit-stand desks

5,000
Sit-stand platforms

10,000
Laptop stands and bundles

4,200
Remote workstation assessments

1,200
Fixed height desks

What is a remote workstation assessment?

A qualified assessor will conduct a review of any workstation over video chat (we use Microsoft Teams). They'll produce a report to discuss findings and suggest improvements to help the user feel more comfortable and productive while they work.
